TWO RACES FOR THE KEENES

RIGODON WINS SEAGATE STAKES AT BRIGHTON BEACH

And Cardinal Wolsey Gets Out of the Maiden Class-Neat Trick Pulled off With Jim -Only One Favorite Finishes in Front.

The wall-known colors of the Keenes were twice carried to victory at Brighton Beach | plenty of time to be on hand at the bugle call, yesterday, where 12,000 persons sweltered in the blazing sun. Rigodon, by St. Gatien year-olds at a mile and a furlong, while Cardinal Wolsey, by St. Leonards—Hampton ciding to withdraw him So his jockey's Belle, got out of the maiden class by winning name and number were taken from the board Minnet, won the Sengate Stakes for three-year-olds at a mile and a furlong, while Cardinal Wolsey, by St. Leonards—Hampton Belle, got out of the maiden class by winning the last race at a mile and a sixteenth. In each instance Gannon rode with perfect judgment.

The Sengate attracted a small field to the post. Rigodon opened equal favorite with W. B. Jennings's Proper at 7 to 5, but the latter was backed down to even money, while the Keene colt receded to 13 to 5. August Belmont's Fire Eater was heavily backed at the last moment, his price dropping to threes Dr. Saylor, the only other starter, went up to 30 to 1. Dr. Saylor cut out the pace for nearly half a mile and then gave way to Proper. Gannon meanwhile had trailed with Rigodon, who was full of running, but at the three-quarter pole he went up to the leader with a great turn of speed and showed his head in front at the far turn. Odom hooked up with Gannon as they rushed thoo the stretch, but Rigodon drew away gradually, and won under a hand ride by two lengths in 1;33 1-5. Proper feeling the whip took the place by three lengths from Dr. Saylor, who beat Mr. Belmont's colt a head.

Although Shot Gun was considered the eurest thing of the day and was a prohibitive favorite at 0 to 20, he was beaten in the second the stretch to beat James R. keene's Tan Osalor, who beat Mr. Bellmont's colt a head.

Trainer Smith Fined for the Non-Appear ance of Cincinnatus.

Terry McGovern and the Bowery contingent had a good thing up their sleeves yesterday in the little pugilist's colt Cin-cinnatus, who was entered for the fifth race. As soon as the layers began chalking up the odds, 20 to 1, against the colt, the pugilistic Kelly in the Two-Year-Old Handicap fraternity got their money down in chunks. Out in the paddock all of the horses were present but Cincinnatus. His trainer, Bill Smith, said that he had left Gravesend in and was at a loss to explain his non-appearance. The race was held back five minutes. Minuet, won the Seagate Stakes for three- but as Terry's colt did not show up, the horses were ordered to the post, the stewards dethe heavily backed favorite, was second and Gold Bell third.

First Race—One mile—Mary Glen, 91 (L. Wilson), 4 to 5, won; Mczzo, 85 (J. Booker), 15 to 1, second; Bard of Avon, 105 (Wonderly), 15 to 1, third. Time, 130 3-5. Hot, Anna Beall, Best Man, Slap Dash, Zella Knight, Lady Chorlster, Latson, Full Back, Ed Adack and Mr. Timberlake also ran.

Second Race—Six furlongs—The Crisis, 107 (Atkins), 20 to 1, won; Bardolph, 112 (Landry), 9 to 1, second; Birch Broom, 12 (Helgerson), 12 to 1, third. Time, 113 3-5. Sidney C. Love, First Chip, Orfeo, J. Sidney Walker and Americano also ran.

Third Race—One mile and an eighth.—The Conqueror, II., 103 (H. Phillips), 30 to 1, won; Hargis, 111 (Henry), 8 to 5, second; Gold Bell, 93 (Reed), 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:53. Schwalbe, Vincennes, Rolling Boer, Capt. Arnold and John McGurk also ran.

the top weight and favorite in 1:14. Pentaur second choice, was two and a half lengths back.

Agnes Brennan was the only successful favorite. She carried big money at $ to 5, and simply spreadeagled her field in the first pace, for two-year-olds at five and half furions, winning easily by a length and a half in 1:07 4-5. Mohave, second choice, was second in a drive, beating Short Cake, third in favor, by three parts of a length.

In the fifth race the talent in desperation went to Courtenay at 11 to 5, but R. H. McCarter Potter's good three-year-old Damon, 5 to 1, made a runaway of it and beat the favorite in a sharp drive by two lengths in 1:47-3-5. Arden was third, a head better than Dark Planet.

The bettling on the last race was divided between Irascible, favorite at 9 to 5, and Cardinal Wolsey, who was backed down from $1 to 1 to 1 to 5. The Keene horse won handily by two lengths, while Mike Dwyer's Williamstead, a 40 to 1 shot, best Irascible a head for second money. The time was 1:48-2-5.

NEW YORK (A. L.), 5; ST. LOUIS (A. L.), 4. A game which opened as though the New Yorks were going to win it easily, in which the tide of battle swung the other way, making St. Louis look a sure winner, and which finally was won by New York by a determined stand

St. Louis look a sure winner, and which finally was won by New York by a determined stand in the last ditch gave entertainment and excitement to the shirt-waisted and coatless gathering at American League Park yesterday afternoon. New York's finish was as heated as the weather, and a much greater source of comfort to those who saw it. While hitting opened up the way for the New Yorks to chase away the phantom of defeat which lurked at their heels, errors were strikingly prominent in the scoring. A missed grounder by each centre fielder was very costly—to St. Louis disastrous.

Griffith turned on all the curves at his command for the ediffication of the Browns, and for five innings they putted and lifted the ball without results. It should be recorded, however, that a spicy double play by Beville and Ganzel prevented a run in the second inning. Friel was on third after a three-bagger when Siever struck out. Beville dropped the third strike, but the ball travelled from him to Ganzel and back again with precise velocity, doubling up batter and base runner. The New Yorks made six hits off Siever in the first four innings.

Work of Polishing the Underbody of the Challenger Will Begin To-day-Poor Showing in Wednesday's Trial Attributed to Change in the Boat's Trim.

Workmen will begin the task of repolishing the underbody of the Shamrock III, at Erie Basin this morning, and if the weather remains warm and the atmosphere dry, Capt.

The big transfer ferryboat Express was in the Boston Dry Dock throughout the day and it was long past 7 o'clock last night before she was water-borne and the great pontoon swung out to admit the Cup hunter. When she was water-borne and the great pontoon swing out to admit the Cup hunter. When the pumps began to empty the dock men in skiffs grifted around the hull of the challenger and with long-handled brooms scrubbed the grass from the underbody of the craft. She had accumulated quite an amount of grass on her underbody, but from the imperfect view that could be obtained the enamel was perfectly smooth except a small portion on the starboard side under her counter. If she had picked up any scawed or other floating debris on her fin it had been worked off before she was warped in the dock.

Sir Thomas, on the Erin, left the upper bay shortly after 5 o'clock and steamed down to the Horseshoe. From there he was sent ashore in a launch and proceeded on a special train to Asbury Park, where he was entertained by Mr. Benjamin, an old friend. Accompanying the Lipton party were Designer Fife and Col. Neill of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club. After dinner the guests of honor enjoyed a concert and a cake walk, the Irish Baronet acting as one of the sudges in making the awards.

This morning the tug Cruiser will be sent to City Island to bring some extra sails from the Ratsey loft. These have been recut, owing to their having stretched in the trial races. Six of Mr. Ratsey's sailmakers from England arrived at City Island yesterday and took charge of the canvas of the challenger.

Commenting upon the relatively poor showing of the challenger in Wednesday's trial it was learned that the principal cause, outside the foul underbody, was an alteration in trim that caused the new yacht's stern to sink lower than the lines designed by Mr. Fife. The alteration was made purely as an experiment and the weight will again be shifted forward before the in sailed again be satisfied Riders and Managers. It has not been officially announced, but it is settled that the paced circuit of the National Cycling Association, which was in-augurated this year for the purpose of deciding the pace following championship, will be given up, temporarily at least. The pace followers have not, as a fact, been riding on circuit dates for a week past.

The reason why the committee of the N. C. A. having the circuit in charge has de-cided to let it slip is that many riders were dissatisfied with the arrangement and were not tractable to the demands of the track managers. The committee appointed by the N. C. A. remains in power and may, later in the season, revive the circuit. It will depend upon how things go with the managers and riders making their own arrangements whether the circuit is revived or not. The rain during June caused so many postponements that the system was all upset and there was little prospect of a champion being evolved who would be accepted as such.

As there was no interference by the police with the races at Belleville last Sunday, racing will continue to be held there. There was a citizens' committee at the track last Sunday, sent to take note whether the races were orderly or not. Apparently they were satisfied, for entry blanks are out for

Although the racing is done on a hard clay track, the riders last week pedalled some fast miles. The track is banked on the turns, and not one spill was recorded on the opening day, despite the fact that large fields were the rule. Next Sunday there will be two "pro" races and three amateur Champion Marcus Hurley, Iver Lawson, W. S. Fenn, Floyd MacFarland, E. F. While no official statement is to be obtained from the Intercollegiate Golf Association at this time as to the team to oppose the Oxford and Cambridge Society players in their first match in this country, at Myopia, it may be stated that the collegians will have out a thoroughly representative set. The experience of Harry Vardon, and before him of the amateur W. Girdwood Stewart, was that the ocean trip and the climatic conditions here were stimulating, and both held that any sickness from the latter cause would not manifest itself for six months, if at all. On this account the collegians expect to find their opponents at their best, and while the outlook for beating them is not considered bright, the team will at least be a good one and no excuses will be offered on that score. The two Egans, to the delight of their associates, have promised to come on from Chicago and it is agreed that No. 1 on the team will be H. Chandler Egan. Frank O. Reinhart is expected to be No. 2 and H. B. McFarland No. 3.
